Case No. 08 CV 0186 DMS WMc

DEFENDANT'S ANSWER TO COMPLAINT FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT

[Complaint Filed: January 30, 2008]

19 Defendant The Ryness Company (hereinafter referred to as "Ryness")
20 responds to Plaintiff's Complaint for Breach of Contract as follows:
21

22 THE PARTIES
23

24 1. Ryness lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief
25 about the truth of these allegations, except Ryness admits that Plaintiff Hanley-Wood, LLC
26 ("Hanley-Wood") is doing business in San Diego, California.
27
28

1 2. Ryness admits that it is a California corporation doing business in San
2 Diego, California but denies the remainder of these allegations.

3
4 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5
6 3. Ryness lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief
7 about the truth of these allegations due to Ryness' lack of knowledge or sufficient
8 information concerning the allegations in paragraph 1 of the complaint.

9
10 4. Ryness admits these allegations to the extent that "resides in this 11 district" means that Ryness is doing business in this district, but otherwise denies these 12 allegations.

13
14 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

15
16 5. Ryness admits that Hanley-Wood owns a proprietary database
17 consisting of, among other things, data collected with respect to the residential
18 homebuilders who are active in all markets in which Hanley-Wood collects information,
19 and that various customers of Hanley-Wood use that information in such markets. Except 20 as admitted, Ryness lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the 21 truth of the remaining allegations.

22
23 6. Ryness admits this allegation.

24
25 7. Ryness admits that Haley-Wood filed the 2005 Action against Ryness
26 and Timothy Sullivan ("Sullivan"). Ryness admits that Sullivan left Hanley-Wood to join
27 Ryness as an independent contractor. Ryness admits that the 2005 Action sought damages
28 based on, among other things, allegations of misappropriation of trade secrets, but Ryness

1 denies that such allegations were true and correct. Except as specifically admitted herein,
2 Ryness denies the remainder of these allegations.

3
4 8. Ryness admits these allegations.

5
6 9. Ryness admits that these allegations roughly track the language of
7 Article 1.1 of the License Agreement, and that the License Agreement is the best evidence
8 of its terms. Except as admitted, Ryness denies the remaining allegations.

9
10 10. Ryness admits that these allegations roughly track the language of
11 Article 4.1 of the License Agreement, and that the License Agreement is the best evidence
12 of its terms. Except as admitted, Ryness denies the remaining allegations.

13
14 11. Ryness admits that Article 6.1 of the License Agreement defines the 15 Initial Term as five years from January 20, 2006, that the License Agreement provided for 16 earlier termination of the agreement subject to the provisions of Articles 6.1 through 6.5
17 and other related provisions, and that the License Agreement is the best evidence of its 18 terms. Except as admitted, Ryness denies the remaining allegations.

19
20 12. Ryness admits that it has not paid in full the amounts Hanley-Wood
21 has asked it to pay, but denies the remaining allegations.

22
23 13. Ryness admits that it has not paid in full amounts called for in the 24 License Agreement and that Ryness has had access to Hanley-Wood's database, but denies
25 the remaining allegations.

26
27 14. Ryness admits that Hanley-Wood has made numerous demands for
28 the payment that Hanley-Wood alleges is owing, and that both Hanley-Wood and Ryness,

1 in an effort to avoid litigation, have attempted to negotiate an acceptable arrangement for
2 continued payment in exchange for continued access to the proprietary database. Except
3 as admitted, Ryness denies the remaining allegations.

4
5 COUNT 1

6 (ALLEGED BREACH OF CONTRACT)

7
8 15. Ryness incorporates its paragraphs 1 through 14 above as though they 9 were set forth here in full.

10
11 16. Ryness denies.

12
13 17. Ryness denies.

14
15 18. Ryness denies that Hanley-Wood has been damaged in any amount
16 including, without limitation, the amounts alleged.

17
18 19. Ryness admits that Hanley-Wood accurately quoted a selected portion
19 of Article 7.2 of the License Agreement.

20
21 20. Ryness denies, and specifically denies that the License Agreement
22 provides for the recovery of attorneys' fees and costs in this context, irrespective of 23 whether Ryness or Hanley-Wood is the prevailing party in this action.

24
25 FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

26 Estoppel

27
28 21. The doctrine of estoppel bars Plaintiff from recovering.

1 SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

2 Unclean Hands

3
4 22. The doctrine of unclean hands bars Plaintiff from recovering.

5
6 THIRD AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

7 Waiver

8
9 23. The doctrine of waiver bars Plaintiff from recovering.

10
11 FIRST AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

12 Lack Of Consent To Contract Due To Unilateral Mistake of Fact

13
14 24. Defendant's consent to the alleged contract was not freely given due
15 to Defendant's mistake about certain facts. Plaintiff knew that Defendant was mistaken
16 and used that mistake to take advantage of Defendant. Defendant's mistake was not caused
17 by excessive carelessness. Defendant would not have agreed to enter in the alleged 18 contract if it had known about the mistake.

19
20 SECOND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

21 Lack Of Consent To Contract Due To Bilateral Mistake

22
23 25. Defendant's consent to the alleged contract was not freely given due
24 to the fact that both parties were mistaken about certain facts. Defendant would not have 25 agreed to enter into the alleged contract if it had known about the mistake.

1 SIXTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

2 Offset

3
4 26. Plaintiff's damages must be offset by the damage Plaintiff has
5 wrongfully caused to Defendant.

6
7 SEVENTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

8 Failure to Mitigate

9
10 27. Plaintiff has failed to mitigate its damages.

11
12 EIGHTH AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE

13 Excuse of Performance

14
15 28. Defendant has been excused from performing any obligation owed to 16 Plaintiff.

17
18 RESERVATION OF RIGHT TO AMEND

19
20 29. Defendant reserves the right to amend its answer to incorporate
21 additional affirmative defenses at a later time.

22
23 PRAAYER FOR RELIEF

24
25 WHEREFORE, Ryness prays for judgment as follows:

26
27 1. That Hanley-Wood not be awarded any compensatory or other
28 damages of any nature or amount whatsoever, including interest on any amount.

1 2. That Hanley-Wood be denied attorneys' fees and costs.

2
3 3. That Ryness obtains judgment in its favor and all other and further
4 relief that the Court deems just and proper.

5
6 REQUEST FOR JURY TRIAL

7
8 Ryness requests a jury trial on all issues triable by a jury.
